YOUTHS HELD FOR HALLOWE'EN PRANK

Fourteen Boys Ranging From 13 to 16 Years Old Brought Into Court By The Police

DESTROYED PROPERTY, CHARGE

Pried Off Portions of Stone Wall Along Fourth Street—May be Turned Over to Juvenile Court

Hallowe'en was celebrated in many ways in Rushville last night, and with only a few exceptions the merry-makers enjoyed the evening in having a good time, excepting a gang of 14 young men who were arrested and taken into police court on charges of malicious trespass and destruction of property.

The gang is said to have done considerable damage to property belonging to Dr. Carl Beher, Ora Montgomery and A. C. Stevens, when large stones were pried off a high wall retaining the soil around the premises in West Fourth street.

The boys were taken to police court and their names obtained, and the matter will probably be certified over to the Juvenile Court officials for disposition of the cases.

Those rounded up by the police after the alleged property destruction, gave their names, address and ages as follows: Ralph Noak, age 15, 229 W. Second; Herbert Newman, age 15, 719 East Eighth; William Vance, age 16, 505 N. Harrison; Gordon Arbuckle, age 13, 527 West Seventh; Louis Harris, age 14, R. R. 6; Theodore Abercrombie, age 15, 1115 North Main; Leroy Keely, age 16, 401 East Seventh; Floyd Ruff, age 15, 826 North Jackson; Carl Martz, age 16, 115 South Harrison; Henry Ward, age 15, 1009 North Maple; Francis Isaac, age 14, 221 West Fifth; Melvin Farthing, age 15, 332 East Ninth; Francis Madden, age 15, 128 East Fourth; Ryland Sherman, age 15, 502 East Eighth.

It is charged that the young men did damage to the stone wall on Fourth street, between Main and Morgan, and when Mrs. Montgomery attempted them from doing damage to their property, it is said she was threatened with rocks and compelled to go in the house. She called the police, and the bunch was rounded up in an alley nearby.

There were many masked people on the streets last night, and several times the police were called to disband small gangs that were engaging in roughness and rowdiness.

The 14 youngsters were allowed to go home last night, with the warning that they would be placed in jail if found on the streets within thirty minutes after leaving the court room.

RECORD FOR FALL PERIOD

Tax Collections Monday Amount to $31,098.73, Treasurer Reports

The record of the period for fall taxpaying was made Monday when collections amounted to $31,098.73, bringing the total sum collected on the fall installment up to this morning, $282,232.81. Of the sum collected Monday, $262.40 was delinquent taxes. It was not expected this record would be equalled today because of the bad weather preventing people from reaching the office.

With a total of $476,231 falling due on the fall installment, there remains $193,968.19 to be collected between now and next Monday evening. Counting today, there are six more days to pay taxes, which means collections must average more than $30,000 a day.

DOLLAR WHEAT IS NEAR

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—Dollar wheat came very near today on the Chicago board of trade when future quotations dropped from 8 to 10 cents. December wheat sold at $1.02. Number 2 mixed wheat sold for $1.05. Flooding of the market, heavy congestion at the North Western terminal and lack of export demand caused the drop.

BOMB U. S. CONSULATE

Lisbon, Portugal, Nov. 1.—The Sacc-Vanzetti "reign of terror" was extended to this country late today when a bomb exploded in the door of the American consulate. Consul Hollis had a narrow escape but was not injured.

CONTRIBUTIONS GROWING

County Schools Making Report on Riley Memorial Fund

Reports of the Riley contributions from the schools in the county are being received now by W. E. Wagner, county school superintendent, and it is expected that the schools of the county will run along with the majority of the counties. The money was collected from the school children without any great appeal being made, and only those who desired contributed to the fund, which will be sent to Indianapolis to help in the Riley Memorial hospital fund.

From the reports received so far, Carthage contributed $26.03, Mays, $4.75, Gary school, a one room building in Posey township, $3.00 and Manilla with $20.43.

LOCAL FARMER IN SUIT FOR DAMAGES

John Hedrick Files Action in Connersville as Outgrowth of Accident July 17, 1921

IN ANDERSON TOWNSHIP

Walter Bell and Clarence Utter of Connersville Blamed When Auto Hits His Buggy

John Hedrick, a farmer living south of Rushville is plaintiff in a suit for $5,000 damages filed in the Fayette circuit court against Walter Bell and Clarence Utter, the complainant alleging that the Connersville men unlawfully operated an automobile which collided with a horse and buggy driven by Hedrick in Anderson township.

The complaint alleges that the buggy was demolished, the horse was frightened causing it to run away, and break the harness beyond repair, threw the plaintiff a distance of about 60 feet, rendering him unconscious and causing him to suffer permanent injuries.

The complaint states that on July 17, 1921, the plaintiff was driving east on the Rushville and Greensburg pike, in Anderson township, Rush county. He was approaching a cross roads where his view of the north and south road was obstructed by a corn field. He charges that Bell and Utter also approached the corner, driving in a "careless, negligent, reckless manner and at an unlawful rate of speed" and that they "failed to sound any warning or signal or to reduce the speed of their car," which is described as a high powered automobile. The complaint charges that the defendants were traveling at a speed of thirty to thirty-five miles an hour.

The plaintiff charges that he suffered damages to his person and property.

TO NAME ELECTION OFFICERS TONIGHT

City Council Will Act on Recommendations of City Chairmen in Preparing For Vote

SAME AS GENERAL ELECTION

Women Will Probably Serve on Most of Boards as in Primary—Ruling as to Pay Received

The city council will meet tonight in regular session, at which time the election officials for the city election to be held on next Tuesday, will be appointed for the six precincts in Rushville.

The city council will appoint the sheriffs, judges, clerks and inspectors, and the two political parties as a rule recommend the appointment of the officials, and the council approves their suggestion of names for the positions.

The appointments are usually approved also by the city chairmen for the two political parties, with A. L. Chew representing the Republicans and John McCoy, the democrats. The board of election commissioners, which has charge of the distribution of the ballots and final counting of the votes, is composed of three men, with Earl Osborne, city clerk, as chairman, Vern W. Norris, representing the Republican party and Guy Mulbarger, the democratic party.

It is expected that the list of names tonight will include women on the election boards, as the same law applies in a city election as in a general election and primary. In the May city primary, women held positions as clerks in almost every precinct in the city.

The pay for the election officials in the city election also is governed by the general election law, and the following decision has been received by the city clerks in the state concerning the pay of the officials:

"City elections are governed by the general election laws and officials of the election boards are entitled to the compensation provided by Section 10, page 45 Acts of 1920.

"Women may serve on the election boards provided they have the qualifications provided by the general election laws."

"Jesse Eschbach, Examiner State Board of Accountants."

The section above referred to reads:

"Sec. 10. Each judge, each clerk and each assistant clerk of any general election shall be allowed and paid the sum of nine dollars ($9); and each sheriff of any such election shall be allowed and paid the sum of ($6); and each inspector of such election shall be allowed and paid the sum of twelve dollars ($12) for the performance of all the duties of his office imposed on him by law whether the same is rendered before, on the day of or after such election."

CASE TO REACH JURY LATE TODAY

Damage Suit For Alienation of Affections Expected to be Completed Late This Afternoon

DEFENDANT TESTIFIES TODAY

Lewis Matney Denies Charges Made by T. R. Black Over Attention Paid to His Wife

The case involving $10,000 damages for the alienation of the affections of the wife of Thomas R. Black, an Indianapolis man, against Lewis Matney, a stock dealer of near Glenwood, was expected to be handed over to the jury late this afternoon for their deliberation and verdict.

The charges made by Black were being counteracted today by the defense, and among the main witnesses on the stand was Mr. Matney, the defendant, who denied that he had ever offered any undue attention toward the wife of the plaintiff.

The case was filed about a year ago in the Fayette circuit court, as Fayette county is the home of the defendant, and this spring the motion for a change was presented, which resulted in the suit being sent here for trial.

After the alienation suit was filed Black is said to have filed a suit for divorce in the Marion circuit court, but his case has not been heard, and the couple are still married. Mrs. Black had been married before, and her 15-year-old daughter, Lucille Zoll, was among the witnesses for the defense yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Black, the woman over whom the suit was brought, appeared yesterday afternoon as a witness for Mr. Matney, and after a few questions had been asked and answered her testimony was ruled out, when the court found that she was not competent to testify, being the wife of the plaintiff and so closely involved in the case.

There was no objection offered to her daughter testifying and she proved to be a good witness for the defendant. Miss Zoll stated that she had never seen anything wrong between the defendant and her mother and that his visits were attended by others and were of short duration.

The defense also attempted to prove that the plaintiff was guilty of cruel treatment toward his wife, and that this really was the foundation of the case.

OUTSIDE OFFICERS TO ASSIST IN DRIVE

Coming From Newcastle, Shelbyville and Richmond to Help Put Across One-Day Drive

FOR LOCAL SALVATION ARMY

Shelbyville, Newcastle and Richmond Salvation Army officers will be here Wednesday to participate in the one-day campaign for funds to support the local corps of the Army during the winter, it was announced by Ross Conway, special efforts secretary in the state, who arrived in advance of the drive today to arrange the details.

Assistants to the local canvassers will be Captain and Mrs. Millman of Newcastle, Captain and Mrs. Charles Sprague of Shelbyville and Ensign and Mrs. William Amberger of Richmond. A meeting of the county advisory board will be held this evening to make final preparations for the campaign. Persons living outside of Rushville or any in the city who are not solicited and wish to give, may leave their subscriptions with Bert Trabue at the Farmers Trust company.

The special one-day drive is necessary here because the county made a failure of the home service campaign last May to raise money for the support of the Army. With many appeals for relief coming in, Ensign Ellis is without funds to meet the demands. Less than $500 was raised in the county last spring.

Captain Millman will conduct a meeting at the Salvation Army hall tonight.

GRAND JURY TO CONVEENE

Will Investigate Charges of Two Colored Men Now in Jail

Robert Frazier and Mose Rose, two colored men who were placed in jail Sunday night on charges of assault and battery, were still in jail today, and will probably be given a hearing late today or Wednesday. The two men were arrested after they had partaken of too much "white mule," it was stated.

The grand jury will go in session Wednesday and several things will come before them, among the things being the matter involving the two colored men.

The grand jury has been in session several days since they reported 20 indictments, and it is expected that they will report another large number when they finish the session which begins tomorrow.

FOCH IS GIVEN ROYAL WELCOME

"Civilization's First Soldier" Pays Tribute Ringing With Emotion to "Army of 1918"

PERSHING WELCOMES HEROES

American Commander Touches on Arms Limitation Conference in Legion Convention Address

(By United Press)

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 1.—Marshal Foch, "civilization's first soldier" paid tribute ringing with emotion to the American army of 1918 which he characterized as a "real grand army beginning with its commander" here today.

The marshal spoke in French to 15,000 American legion men. Legionnaires cheered as Foch declared: "The greatest honor of my life will be to have guided along the road to victory the American army of 1918."

A resolution criticizing and condemning President Harding for his attitude toward the ex-service men as revealed in congress' action was printed and circulated on the floor of the legion convention here today. The resolution was proposed on account of the lack of sympathy revealed for former soldiers in the world war. The resolution was circulated by the resolutions committee.

Foch's speech was mostly a review and tribute to America in the war, declaring to the ex-service men "you may well be proud."

He recounted the quickness in which America placed 3,500,000 men in the field, the rapidity with which men were trained and the accomplishments of the country as a whole.

The French chief paid special tribute to the second and third army divisions at the Marne and the five divisions which participated in the Franco British counter offensive between the Aisne and the Marne. Work of the first American army at St. Mihiel, the men who fought at the Arzonne and reconquered the Meuse were also lauded.

"More than 75,000 of your brothers are buried in France," the Marshal said. "May they rest in peace. Your French brothers in arms will watch over them. Glory to you who survive them. You may well be proud of your exploits."

After reviewing the last days of the war with the American army stretched before Metz, the marshal declared the A. E. F. an "army with its task completely fulfilled."

Following his speech Foch was presented with the emblem of the American Legion. "Hope of the future lies in the coming disarmament conference at Washington," General Pershing told the Legion convention today in officially welcoming Marshal Foch and other inter Allied heroes.

The American commander in chief touched on the arms limitation and Pacific conference, unemployment among ex-service men and other such problems more freely than any other of the military leaders.

The coming conference in Washington should be as important as any ever held, Pershing asserted after reviewing the indebtedness and other burdens brought on by the war.

"The time seems propitious for the

ILLINOIS COAL MINERS TO STRIKE

Night Shift Will Leave Posts Tonight in Protest Against Judge Anderson's Ruling

NO NATION WIDE STRIKE

International Headquarters of United Mine Workers Will Not Order Walkout, it is Announced

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 1.—Illinois coal miners will strike on night shift tonight in protest against Judge A. B. Anderson check off injunction according to advices received at the general offices of coal operators here. Besides ordering miners to prepare for a strike, miner operators instructed their salesmen not to take any further orders for coal and cancel what contracts are now made wherever possible.

Charleston, W. Va. Nov. 1.—Union efforts to organize the West Virginia coal fields will not be halted by the injunction of Federal Judge Anderson in Indianapolis district officials of the United Mine Workers here declared today.

Athens, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Three hundred men employed at a mine of the New York Coal Company, here, walked out today.

They quit because of the federal court injunction against the "check off."

More Athens county miners are expected to follow today.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 1.—Four hundred miners of sub-district No. 4 of district 11, United Mine Workers of America, met here Sunday afternoon and voted to cease work if Judge A. B. Anderson issued an injunction against their organization, it became known today.

Terre Haute miners have denounced International President Lewis and are loyal to Alexander Howat. This was the stand taken in the mass meeting of four hundred miners here and expressed in the following telegram which was sent to Howat, president of district 14, by Secretary James Baden of the policy committee of the miners here.

"Miners assembled in mass meeting at Terre Haute, October 30, 1921. Considered you and your associates the most loyal and red blooded leaders. Urge them to stand pat. We are with them."

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—There will be no authorized national coal strike in protest against the check off injunction granted by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson, it was learned here today.

There may be some walkouts but they will not spread throughout the country nor will be ordered from the international headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America.

President John L. Lewis and other international officers of the unions, it was understood, will follow the assurance given Judge Anderson that they will obey temporarily the order restricting them from sending money into West Virginia for the purpose of unionizing the open shop region where civil war recently waged. The order also bans the check-off system whereby mine operators deducted the union dues from the miners pay checks.

New York, Nov. 1—A general covering of short contracts set in on the stock market in the second hour today.

Within a few minutes Mexican Petroleum was run up to 1015-8 from 98¾. Pan American recovered more than a point. Houston led the domestic oils with an early high of 78¾ up 2½ net. Asphalt was up 15-8 at 63½.

Toward the end of the first hour, gas and electric stocks were the feature. Some of the issues made new high prices for the year. Brooklyn Union Gas reached 75½ a point over the previous years record.

Pressure continued on Mexican oil stocks during the first few minutes of trading on the New York stock exchange today. The first sale of Mexican Petroleum was at 99¾, unchanged but the stock then dipped to 98¾. Pan American A opened off ¼ at 443-4 and Atlantic Gulf lost ½ at 285-8. Pacific Oil made a new low on the reaction at 45, off ¼. Other domestic oils, however, were firm with Houston up ½ at 77. Royal Dutch continued to give a good show of itself with a gain of 1¼ at 49½. There was little change in the rest of the list. Steels were fractionally lower. American Ice made a new record high at 66½, up 1. Rails were slightly higher.

Only five mines of this state are known to be affected but the reports were incomplete. If enough pressure is brought to bear a coal strike against Judge Anderson's order, it is understood it would be called on a basis of the attitude of the bituminous coal commission two years ago, inserting the check-off system in the contract in a letter from President Wilson directing the miners and operators to follow the dictate of their attitude.

A decision may be reached to appeal the case to the circuit court of appeals in Chicago. If this act is decided upon, the appeal will be drawn up and filed within the next few days.

Operators Expect Strike

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Orders to prepare for a strike of coal miners, were sent out by large coal mine operating companies today from their general offices here.

Mine operators believe the miners will strike in protest against the ruling by Judge A. B. Anderson in Indianapolis preventing collection of union funds by the check off system.

Mine operators believe the miners will strike in protest against the ruling by Judge A. B. Anderson in Indianapolis preventing collection of union funds by the check off system.

Local mine foremen were instructed to get their property in condition to prepare for a shut down.

Miners union officials are meeting in Indianapolis to decide what action will be taken to fight Judge Anderson's ruling.

Leaders in labor circles here today declared they believed if the courts ruling is upheld, it will mean the downfall of all unionism.

Victor A. Olander, secretary of the Illinois division of the American Federation of Labor who has made a study of the effect of court injunctions on organized labor declared that the decision by Judge Anderson, if upheld, can be construed to apply to any other strike.

"Under the ruling it will be impossible for any labor union to support any other striking body, no matter where it might be."

John Fitzpatrick, head of the Chicago Federation of Labor took a more optimistic view.

"I haven't yet seen a labor organization put out of business by injunction," Fitzpatrick said. "The union man must refuse to recognize an injunction because we believe that when used in restraint of labor it is illegal."

Theodore M. Buck, editor of Chicago's leading labor paper, declared the only way to beat an injunction was to ignore it.

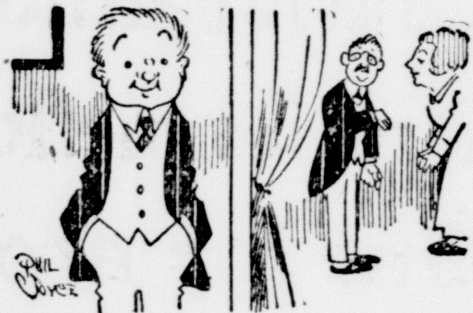

"The American Federation of Labor's policy since 1919 has been to ignore injunctions, inasmuch as they are contrary to the constitution," Buck stated.

Boys Held Better Than Girls Morally

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Boys are now the "little angel children" of Chicago mothers.

Boys are better morally than girls in Chicago, at least, Joseph L. Moss, chief probation officer told the United Press in an interview today.

"Girls are not only worse than boys, but the girls are showing no improvement while the boys are gradually raising their moral standard," Moss stated.

"Last year there were fewer boys brought into juvenile court than the previous year, while the number of girl delinquents increased."

The old axiom that an average girl was better than the average boy, is now only a tradition, Moss stated.

"Many boys who formerly came into court here were in trouble because of acts committed while under the influence of liquor. This is not true of girls. Practically none of the girls are drinkers. While 65 percent of the 684 girls in juvenile court last year were charged with sex delinquency, not one of the boys arraigned, were held on that charge. The boys generally were charged with petty thefts and robberies. Only ten percent of the girls were held on robbery charges.

Thirty-three percent of the girls were declared incorrigible and their parents were unable to "handle them" while only 17 percent of the boys were in court because of refusal to obey their parents.

The Season of Bad Roads

As the fall and winter, the season of bad roads, approaches, taxpayers are reminded of all the golden opportunities which have been wasted during the "harvest time" when the roads should have been put in condition for the days of rain, snow, thaws and freezes.

It has not been the general policy of the road maintenance officials, especially those employed by the county, to use the road drag to the best advantage or to pay much attention to the drainage, the two most essential things in connection with the upkeep of highways.

For many years agitation has been carried on in Rush county in favor of the use of the road drag, but still road men are either negligent or they are not convinced that the road drag is the proper tool to be employed to keep the surface of gravel roads smooth and free of "waves" and bumps.

Local road officials are content with piling on some fresh gravel every fall and letting it go at that. But roads in this day and age will not stand up with one repairing a year. They need frequent attention from the road drag, and the matter of drainage is most essential, because if water is allowed to stand on the surface of the road, holes are worn much sooner than if the road were drained so that the water would run off.

In some instances, state highway commission road supervisors have been negligent, but their roads are in much better condition now than those under the care of the county. The state road men have absolute instructions to pay particular attention to drainage and to watch the surface and keep it smooth with the use of the drag.

When will it ever come to pass that we will get value received for the money expended on county roads? Let us all hope that it is not far away.

Preaching and Practicing

One of the human frailties is the willingness of man to advise others on their conduct, but still not following his own teachings—in other words, not practice what he preaches.

We have today a notable example of this human weakness. A number of leading citizens of Indianapolis, all professing republicans, formed a committee to oppose Lew Shank, republican candidate for mayor, on the theory that he is not fit to be the chief executive of this "no mean" city.

They have gone to some lengths, with the support of the Indianapolis News and in paid political advertisements, to recruit voters for the democratic candidate, Boyd M. Ralston. In their advertisements and statements, they have announced that they propose to vote for Ralston.

But it develops today that twenty percent of the committee of 100 is not qualified to vote at all because of nonregistration; that they were perfectly willing to point out the course which citizens of Indianapolis should follow, but they themselves had not taken enough interest in the affairs of their city, over which they have shown so much concern, to qualify for voting on election day.

It is ever so. This tendency which is common among men, hampers the work of the honest man and lessens the influence of that small class of citizens who endeavor to follow the precepts of the golden rule and live the kind of a life which they would have others live. We need more of living good, clean lives and less of preaching how it is done.

Defeat in an attempted railroad strike and a federal court injunction to prevent unionization of the West Virginia mine field is two body blows in as many days for union labor.

We presume that if Sam Gompers could bring it about, he would have Judge Anderson removed from the federal bench.

Marshal Foch ought to know by this time that Americans appreciate his leadership in the world war.

It is no longer advisable to "keep in the middle of the road." You might get honked to hades.

Wagon Used 25 Years

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 1.—A heavy farm wagon purchased by the commissioners of Kosciusko county nearly 25 years ago for use of the county infirmary, located three miles south of Warsaw, still is in almost daily use and is good for many years to come, according to Alva Rockhill, for 15 years superintendent of the institution.

"The wagon is no different than any other wagon manufactured at the same time," said Rockhill today, but it has been given good care always, being housed from rain and snow and having been repainted on the average of once every two years. Machinery used on the farm has lasted proportionately as long as the wagon, the age of the various implements being increased as a result of being properly cared for.

ISADOR DUNCAN TO REMAIN IN RUSSIA
Paris, Nov. 1.—Isador Duncan, the famous dancer, likes Russia "where Art is not crushed by Commercialism," and is going to stay there. Several months ago Isador went to Moscow to establish a school to teach the Russian children impressionistic dancing, under the auspices of the Bolsheviks.

In a letter to Humanite, the Socialist newspaper here, Isador writes: "You ask my impressions. I can give only the impressions of an artist. I quit Europe, where Art is crushed by Commercialism. I am convinced that in Russia the greatest miracle in two thousand years is happening. Those who live in the next hundred years will realize that humanity, through the communist regime took a great step in advance. The martyrdom that Russia is suffering for the sake of the future will prove as fertile as that of the martyrdom of the Nazarene. Only the fraternity of the workers of the world can save civilization."

Current Comment

Virtually at Par
(Kansas City Journal)

The sensational recovery of Liberty bonds and other federal war securities notably Victory notes, from the humiliating slump in which they were floundering only a few months ago, is cause for general gratification. Last week, on a huge volume of transactions the Victory notes rose to 99.56, virtually par, though, of course, the fraction would make considerable difference in a large aggregate. A paragraph in the market comment on this event says:

"While the demand for these issues was primarily ascribed to the recent lowering of rediscount rates by federal reserve banks, it also was accepted as evidence that the country-wide liquidation of the last eighteen months had run its course."

The layman can understand the concluding phrases of the comment much more easily than the cryptic language of the experts. The suggestion that the rise of government securities, the safest in the world, means that the industrial and economic corner has been turned definitely and that these securities no longer have to be sacrificed in liquidation, is welcomed and all the more eagerly because it is substantiated by reports from all quarters of the country.

There was a period when small holders of bonds threw them upon the market for the mere purpose of squandering the proceeds in the orgy of extravagance that swept the country. Then succeeded the period when individuals and large holders were forced to sacrifice their holdings in order to meet current expenditures. In the aggregate of heavy holdings these liquidating operations had a very appreciable effect upon the value of the securities and reflected a decidedly unhealthy situation affecting the entire country. The era of extravagance passed long ago, and it is gratifying to see so many evidences of the passing of the more serious period of forced selling.

Those who have held to their bonds have the satisfaction of knowing that they have the best investment they could possibly make, while those who bought during the period of low prices and have retained their holdings have made a lucrative profit. The 4 1/2 per cent bonds bought for 88 cents January 1, 1921, return approximately 15 percent later. Exact figures can be computed readily on the issues of varying interest, cost and present value.

The paramount fact is that all the federal securities are splendid investments and that the whole range is steadily increasing in value, with some of the most attractive issues standing practically at par. The reproach of government bonds selling far below $1 seems to have been removed to all intents and purposes and President Harding's earnest efforts to bring the Liberty and Victory issues to par has virtually succeeded.

AMUSEMENTS

"Kismet" is Great Picture

"Kismet" with the inimitable Otis Skinner, a Robertson-Cole release, which was shown last night and will be seen again today and Wednesday is the greatest photoplay of a decade. As the masterpiece of Edward Knoblock, the film version of this famous drama has lost none of the essential "pep" needed to make it the great success on the screen that it was on the legitimate stage. While Louis J. Gasnier has long identified with the best in film achievement, as director of "Kismet" he won the greatest victory of his career. There is no question as to the complete success of this picture.

In the first place, the combination of Otis Skinner and "Kismet" assures the movie fan of something worth while. Here is a real story,

Settlement of the Strike

To the student of history, or the careful observer of current events, there is a significance in the settlement of the threatened railway strike, which was to have been inaugurated October 30, for the purpose, and the declared intention of paralyzing the transportation business of the country, even to the stopping of the mails.

In the final analysis it was a contest between forces that have long assumed an attitude of resentment, and in some instances defiance of law, and the properly constituted authorities, and the settlement demonstrates the fact that the government still functions.

In this readjustment period, when economic pressure is leveling price inequalities, certain classes of citizens have continued to demand, and to assert their right to maintain the high peak of vantage gained during, and because of the abnormal conditions produced by war. And it is comforting to the majority to know that the arrogant attitude of a small minority has been promptly met with firmness and fairness on the part of the government.

Encouraged by their success in forcing through congress the Adamson law, and in taking advantage of war conditions to secure unreasonable rulings and concessions, certain labor leaders and agitators have become defiant to a point of demanding privileges that are not only unfair, but unconstitutional.

The American Federation of Labor, in a meeting held in Washington, February 23, 1917, and presided over by Samuel Gompers, declared for the "immediate restoration of exemption from, or the repeal of all anti-combination, and so-called conspiracy laws," and further: "The only immediate course through which labor can find relief lies in flat refusal to recognize or abide by the terms of injunction which seek to prohibit the doing of acts which workers have a right to do."

Repeal by states of all industrial court laws, and all restrictive or coercive laws was demanded, together with "freedom from decisions of courts holding trade unions and individual members thereof liable in damages for the unlawful acts of others." The declaration also calls for the removal of all power of courts to declare unconstitutional laws enacted by congress.

Some of the sentiments expressed in the foregoing declaration, and the attitude assumed by the leaders of the American Federation of Labor, and other labor organizations recently, serve as reminders of what was proclaimed during the nullification period, when hot-headed Southerners boldly, and defiantly threatened to smash things if they could not have their way.

Andrew Jackson, who was President, gave the nullifiers to understand that if they did not cease their activities they would hang higher than Haman. A precedent for applying government authority to suppress a strike, is found in the action of President Cleveland when he called out the federal troops to protect property and guarantee the transportation of the mails.

The declaration of the American Federation of Labor that it should "refuse to recognize or abide by the terms of injunction," is met by Judge Anderson's injunction against certain miners organizations, issued Monday.

The action of the Labor Board, which is a part of the legal machinery of the federal government, and of the courts in asserting their authority wherever it is defied or transgressed, has the unqualified approval of the great majority of the American people. It is not a conviction of, or an attack on organized labor, which is composed largely of loyal citizens, but a notice to radicals, backed by the full force of government authority, that there shall be no class rule or domination in this country.

For those whose vision is obscured, and whose opinions are influenced by class prejudice, we commend the following by Abraham Lincoln, the great commoner, whose utterances always carry a human appeal:

"Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap; let it be taught in schools, in seminaries, and in colleges; let it be written in primers, in spelling books, and in almanacs; let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls, and enforced in courts of justice. And in short let it become the political religion of the nation; and let the old and the young, the rich and poor, the grave and the gay of all sexes and tongues and colors sacrifice unceasingly upon its altars."

To narrow the distance between extremes, to give to capital the protection and encouragement to which it is entitled, and upon which its existence depends, and at the same time give labor the best remuneration, the broadest field and the amplest opportunities possible, is one of the great problems of government that remains to be solved, not only in the United States, but in the world. ROBERT E. MANSFIELD.

written by an American dramatist, in which the greatest of American character actors appears. Mr. Skinner knows his "Kismet" as few astronomers know their planets. Those who saw the picture last night were privileged to see Mr. Skinner in his first venture on the screen. An artist of the semi-school, Mr. Skinner literally had to be dragged into the realm of the film. His appearance on the silver sheet would be heralded with great joy by the lovers of moving pictures and it is to be hoped that he has overcome his antipathy to camera acting and will again be seen on the screen in some of his best portrayals.

Has a Dual Role in Play

The Reart picture "The Case of Becky" which will be seen at the Princess again today is an adaptation of the great Edward Locke story which was staged by David Belasco in New York. It was selected by Constance Binney herself, she playing the role of Dorothy Stone, the girl with a dual personality.

The story, seemingly fantastic, is true in many of its details, having been written from a scientific treatise by Dr. Morton Prince, a Boston psychologist. The plot concerns a girl who is alternately controlled by two personalities, one good and the other evil. It is somewhat akin to "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde", but is less weird and terrifying.

Hypnosis forms the scientific background for the story and it is through this science that the heroine is brought back to her normal self.

Chester M. Franklin, the director, used an exceptionally strong cast including Montague Love, Frank McCormack, Glenn Hunter, Margaret Seddon and Jaffe Jennings. George Folsey photographed the production which was adapted by J. Clarkson Miller.

Wickedest Buffalo Executed by Owner

(By United Press)
Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 1.—Geronimo, the wickedest old buffalo bull that ever lowered his shaggy head, is dead. Geronimo was owned by Charles Irwin, of the Y-6 ranch.

But Geronimo's meanness increased with age. Wire fences meant nothing to him, and the buffalo became a common sight on many ranches. Naturally, ranchmen cursed Geronimo's existence, as their cattle escaped through the gaps in the fences. Reports of badly gored cattle came to Irwin, and one morning a particularly fine bull was found disemboweled. A few hours later, Geronimo appeared at his wallow, his head matted with blood.

And so, on circumstantial evidence, the big-buffalo was executed by Irwin. His head, with its wickedly gleaming eyes hangs on the wall of the living room of the Y-6 ranch house. His hide makes a beautiful rug.

"And his spirit", read the sign-board above his grave, erected by cowboys on the Y-6 "is to be found among the phantom herds of Paradise, where Geronimo, the bison incarnation of the devil himself, has ceased his roaming and fence-walking and treacherous charges, to find happiness in the society of his kind".

ON VERGE OF A BREAKDOWN

(By United Press)
London, Nov. 1.—Newspapers united in declaring that the Irish peace negotiations, which were to have been resumed today, were on the verge of a breakdown.

At Downing street it was admitted that the situation is the most difficult but representatives of both the government and the Sinn Feiners denied that any break had come.

HAWAIIAN ISLANDS ARE DRYING FAST

By CLARENCE DUBOSE (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Honolulu, (By Mail)—The "oke-legger" is the run in Hawaii. He's having a hotter time than his famous first cousin, the boot-legger in the States. Governor Wallace R. Farrington is on his trail and every officer of the Islands is after him—all united under the cry: "Booze, Booze must go!"

The Hawaiian Islands, being American territory, are of course 100 percent amendable to the eighteenth amendment. But the "oke" hounds have been reluctant to admit that fact. Okolehao—familiarily abbreviated into "oke"—is a local liquid dynamite, a brew long popular with some of the native and alien population, and said to have a wallop considerably stronger than vodka, T. N. T. and Missouri moonshine likker all combined. It drives men crazy and wrecks health, authorities here declare.

So Governor Farrington is leading a vigorous crusade to stamp out the illicit production and clandestine peddling of "oke", and those who know the Islands predict he will win.

FOCH IS GIVEN

ROYAL WELCOME

nations to meet and frankly discuss questions of mutual interest that might later affect friendly relations. Headed by medal men in the places of honor, sixty thousand former service men and women members of the Legion in convention here formed the mammoth parade which Marshal Foch, Admiral Beatty, Baron Jacques, General Diaz and General Pershing witnessed.

Disabled veterans were carried in motor cars directly behind the medal men. Delegates and visitors from forty-eight states and Alaska, Mexico and Hawaii fell in next, the states in alphabetical position.

Most of the men are in uniform of service. Eighty-five bands and drum and bugle corps enlivened the procession.

Preceding the parade a flag of his nation was presented to each of the Allied representatives as the army and naval leaders stood with bared heads just outside convention hall. A letter accompanying the flags, contained a request that the commanders give the national emblems for decorating Kansas City's memorial building, along with individual autographed cards or letters.

The dedication of the liberty memorial was attended by impressive ceremonies.

"Somebody to see you!"

If everybody with something to interest you should come and ring your bell, what a nuisance it would be! Think of the swarming, jostling crowd, the stamping of feet on your porch and carpets!

Every day we know of many callers who come to see you. They never jangle the bell — they don't take up your whole day trying to get your attention. Instead, they do it in a way that is most considerate of your privacy and your convenience. They advertise in your newspaper!

In this way you have only to listen to those you know at a glance have something that interests you. They make it short, too, so you can gather quickly just what you want to know. You can receive and hear them all without noise or confusion in comparatively few minutes.

In fairness to yourself look over all the advertisements. The smallest and the largest — you never can be sure which one will tell something you really want to know.

World's Largest Sign

London, Nov. 1—Operation of what is believed to be the largest electrical sign in existence has just commenced here. The sign, shaped like a star, measuring a quarter of a mile from point to point, serves as a guide for the cross Channel air pilots in landing at night.

The lights are sunk in a grove covered with heavy glass, level with the ground, so that the planes can taxi right across them in landing.

The lighting is so arranged that a huge "L" may be displayed to indicate the direction of the wind.

The giant sign is installed at Croydon, the London air station, and landing there will be further facilitated by a searchlight so powerful that it can be seen from a distance of 30 miles, and so penetrating that it can be seen even through a heavy cloud bank. Buildings adjacent to the aerodrome will also be outlined in electric lights to avoid collisions in night flying.

The station, as now built and with the minor improvements to be made, is believed to be the best equipped for flying in the world.

The guests were met at the gate by Walter Patton and escorted to the door of the basement which was a solid mass of corn shocks. On entering the basement they were received by Homer Nash, who was masked as a ghost. He introduced them to a live goat which was surrounded with corn shocks, autumn leaves and shelled corns. They were guided up the stair way where they were received by Miss Pauline Patton, masked as a ghost, who guided them to Mrs. Patton, who was in the living room. She guided them on to the stairway where they were met by Naomi Nash who was masked as a ghost. She instructed them to go up stairs where they were met by Mary Patton, a cousin of the hostess, who was dressed as a witch. She warned them to move on and after hearing the loud raps of her cane on the floor they were willing to do so. ### OLIVES AS FOOD.

A ripe olive yields twice as many calories, or heat units, as the green, and is nearly equivalent to bread, which we consider the staff of life. The ripe olive is little known in the greater part of the United States. Those who become accustomed to it like it far better than the green olive, and it is more easily digested as well as more rich in food than the green olive. Ripe olives because of their flavor, which is very delicate, are especially good in meat sauces, dressings and made dishes. A half-dozen ripe olives chopped fine and added to the giblet sauce to serve with roast chicken or turkey, is especially fine.

Olive Sauce.—Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter and a teaspoonful of chopped chives, and cook until softened. Remove the chives, add five tablespoonfuls of flour and a half-teaspoonful of salt with a few dashes of pepper; add two cupfuls of brown stock and cook until thick. Cut one dozen olives from the pits, cover with boiling water for five minutes, drain and add to the sauce. Serve with meat or game.

Hawaiian Salad.—Place a slice of pineapple on a leaf of lettuce. On it arrange alternate sections of orange and grapefruit. Between each piece place one-eighth section of a ripe olive. In the center of the pineapple place a ball made of cream cheese seasoned with mayonnaise, to hold it together. Sprinkle with paprika and serve with French dressing. The pineapple or other fruit juices may be used in place of the vinegar in the dressing. Pass mayonnaise for the salad.

Olive Salad.—Take four tart apples, one stalk of celery, or rather bunch, one-half cupful of walnut meats and three-fourths of a cupful of pitted olives, ripe. Cut the celery, apples and olives into julienne strips. Add the nuts, moisten with mayonnaise and serve in a nest of lettuce.

A RIOT OF COLOR

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 1.—London is to indulge herself this fall in a riot of color in dress, from overcoats to lingerie.

Already many shops in the West End are filled with ravishing Parisian models, and their windows reflect the hundred glancing colors of the coming season.

In millinery, for instance, you may wear either bright French blue or one of the new fuchsia shades, or henna, or even go back to the rusts and tangerines of last year, and still be able to say that you are wearing "the fashionable color".

Costumes are to be strictly autumnal in hue—brown and henna and black—but evening frock break out again into the gayest tints—blue and mauve and a hundred shades of red covered by the elastic word fuchsia.

When it reaches lingerie, the riot is uncontrolled. Jade green, orange tomato, lemon, black, pearl, gray, mauve—any of these colors is "correct".

The male craze for colored clothes has collapsed. There is a general return to the grays and browns and blacks of pre-war days.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of St. Paul's M. E. church will meet with Mrs. S. L. Innis, corner of Perkins and Seventh streets, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Mrs. George Davis will read a report from the branch meeting and the Kings Heralds will give a little playlet. Members and friends of the society are urged to be present and bring their postcards to send to the Philippines.

The defense occupied the witness stand for a long time this morning and denied many of the accusations offered by the plaintiff. Many of the questions concerning his arrest for public intoxication after an automobile accident, were ruled out, and objections were frequently made to questions.

Concerning the purchase of whiskey, Matney told the jury that he bought the whiskey on one particular occasion from Mrs. George Talbert, a friend of the Indianapolis people, who was mentioned frequently yesterday in the case, and with whom Mr. and Mrs. Black had exchanged apartments.

Following Mr. Matney on the stand this morning, court recessed at ten o'clock until 1:15 this afternoon on account of a witness being absent, and as this was the last witness for the defense, the case was expected to reach the jury late this afternoon.

INCOMES MAKE BIG JUMPS IN 5 YEARS

Total National Income in 1918 Was 61 Billion Compared With 34.4 Billions in 1913

RESEARCH BUREAU FINDINGS

Made Public in Advance of Formal Publication of Results of Year's Study

(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 1.—The total national income of the United States in 1918 was 61 billion dollars, as compared with 34.4 billions in 1913. But this increase in dollars did not represent a like increase in production. Most of it was due to rise in prices, for the dollar of 1918 and 1919 was a much less efficient dollar than that of 1913. The actual total of commodities produced increased very little, if at all, and a large part of those which were war materials, not of a kind really benefiting consumers.

Consequently, individual incomes, estimated on a per capita basis, rising from $340 in 1910 and $354 in 1913, to $586 in 1918, represented more dollars but little or no real increase because the $586 of 1918 is equivalent to only $372 in terms of the purchasing power of 1913.

These are the most important findings of the National Bureau of Economic Research, made public today in advance of the formal publication of the results of a year's study of "Income in the United States." This study, the most exhaustive ever made of the income question in this country, has been conducted by Wesley Clair Mitchell, Willford I. King, Frederick R. Macaulay and Oswald W. Knauth, under the auspices and direction of a board of nineteen directors, including men prominent in many fields of business, education, labor, agriculture, economics and practical statistics, and representing many divergent points of view.

The report says that only one out of a hundred (1 percent) income receivers in the United States in 1918 had incomes of $8,000 or more, and that this one percent had 14 percent of the national income. Five percent, representing incomes above $3,200, had 26 percent of the total. Ten percent, including incomes above $2,300, had nearly 35 percent of the total; the most prosperous 20 percent, including incomes above $1,750 had about 47 percent 80 percent of the income receivers had incomes below $1,750, receiving about 53 percent of the total income.

In most of the year since 1913, the bureau finds that in the principal organized industries, wages and salaries were about 70 percent of the total income; while capital (including management) received about 30 percent, out of which were paid rent, interest and profits; but these proportions varied materially with relative prosperity and depression. In 1916, for example, the share of capital increased to about 22 percent, with 65 percent to labor while in 1919 capital's share fell to about 22 percent, while labor got 78. Of

U. S. Incomes in Short Sentences

New York, Nov. 1.—The total national income of the United States in 1918 was $61,000,000,000 compared with $34,400,000,000 in 1913. In the same period, individual incomes increased from $354 in 1913 to $586 in 1918. Because of the lessened value of the dollar, however, the relative purchasing value of the individual income, with 1913 as a basis, was only $372 in 1918, compared with $400 in 1916.

Only 1 per cent of those with incomes in 1918 had incomes of $8,000 a year or more, and this 1 per cent had 14 per cent of the national income.

Eighty per cent of the incomes in 1918 were below $1,750, constituting about 53 per cent of the total income.

Farmers increased their income from 12.6 per cent of the nation's total in 1913 to 17 per cent in 1918.

The report estimated that 5,300,000 persons had incomes over $2,000 in 1918 and that their total income was more than $23,000,000,000. Income tax returns, however, showed only 2,908,000 persons reported incomes of $2,000 or over, and their reported total income was less than $14,000,000,000.

The total national income in the United States in 1914 was $33,500,000,000, compared with $10,900,000,000 in Great Britain.

The bureau was organized after the war by a group for the purpose of collecting scientific statistical information as the basis for intelligent solution of national problems.

the total payments to employees in the highly organized industries, about 92 per cent goes to the manual workers and clerical staffs, while 8 percent goes to officials.

The farmers, who, during the past decade, have made up about 16 per cent of the total of the gainfully employed, had from 12 to 13 per cent of the national income in the years between 1910 and 1916, inclusive; since 1917 they have been receiving 16 to 17 percent, or a somewhat higher proportion, as the following figures from the report show:

1910	12.9	per cent
1911	11.9	" "
1912	12.3	" "
1913	12.6	" "
1914	12.9	" "
1915	13.1	" "
1916	12.8	" "
1917	16.3	" "
1918	17.0	" "
1919	16.5	" "

As for the sources of the national income, the bureau finds, taking a general average since 1910, that the agriculture contributes about 17 percent of the total, manufacturing about 30 percent, transportation about 9 percent, government about 5 percent, mining a little more than 3 percent, banking a little over 1 percent. The many miscellaneous employments, professional men, retailers, jobbers, merchants, domestics, etc., too numerous to list specifically, contributed 33 percent. In other words, our highly-organized industries, even if we include all

DEW OF DEATH IN FUTURE CONFLICTS

Next War Will be More Horrible, According to Chemists Working on New Gasses

IS CONFERENCE SUBJECT

Gas Developed is Known as Dew of Death Which Will Fall Unseen From Clouds by Enemy

By A. L. BRADFORD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 1.—The Dew of Death! The next war will be more horrible than the last world catastrophe!

This prediction, frequently heard from not only army and navy experts but from the average citizen, seems certain of fulfillment unless some summary action is taken by the forthcoming Washington Conference to prohibit or restrict the use of these latest war devices.

One of the three main subjects to be taken up at the Conference under the broad question of limitation of armament is: "Rules for control of new agencies of warfare". The Chemical Warfare Service of the American Army is believed to possess today the deadliest poisonous gas in the world. This is called "Lewisite", a gas developed during the latter part of the war by Winford Lee Lewis, a professor of chemistry of Northwestern University, but never used in the last war.

A quantity of this gas, equivalent to three drops, reaching a man's body in liquid form, will kill. Lewisite is similar to mustard gas, a burning gas, which caused the major portion of the gas casualties of the war.

Gas was never used from airplanes during the war, but it is understood that the Chemical Warfare Service is prepared, in a future war, to let down from fleets of aircraft a veritable rain of most powerful gasses.

These gasses would be released from tanks carried by airplanes, and would drift to earth in liquid form, as a light rain or dew. The mustard gas evaporates more slowly than does the Lewisite, thus retaining its power for injury by burning longer, but Lewisite is the deadliest of the two.

A picture can thus be gained of airplanes, in a future war, letting down this "dew of death" on armies in the field, and on cities in back of the firing line, should this be resorted to.

That Chemical Warfare Service knows that clothing, soaked with heavy linseed oil, can be made to protect the wearer from this gas, but it is also equally true that men cannot stand the wearing of such clothing for long. Complete protection from poisonous gas seems impossible.

Pointing out the importance of the use of poisonous gas in war, Brigadier-General Amos Fries, of the Chemical Warfare Service said:

"The use of gas makes aviation ten times as powerful as it would ordinarily be, and doubles the value of every other branch of warfare.

"The importance of gas is evidenced by the fact that 27 percent of the American casualties during the war was caused by this new agency of warfare. Then, too, the casualties caused by all the weapons of infantry—the bayonet, the rifle, the hand grenade and the machine gun—were only slightly more than the gas casualties.

"The use of gas is particularly valuable as a means of defense. Imagine an enemy fleet, bringing up the army of the hostile country, to attack the United States. Our airplanes would go out and bomb the enemy ships with explosives and gas.

"If, after this, the enemy forces did succeed in getting up to, or on, the American shore, a rain of poisonous gasses could be let down on them in such magnitude that they could go no farther. So, I believe, such use of gas would make it impossible for an attacking army to get a foothold on American soil.

"Some other nations probably would be glad to know that we had pledged ourselves not to use poisonous gas.

"I do not believe this government should enter into any agreement not to use gas while there is a possibility of this country being placed at the mercy of an outlaw nation breaking this pledge, as Germany did when she started the use of gas in the World War."

plane has already been greatly increased since the World War. Only a few days ago, the largest aerial bomb in the world was successfully tested by the Ordnance department and the air service of the army at the Ordnance Proving Ground at Aberdeen, Md. It was 13 1/2 feet long, 2 feet in diameter, weighed 4,200 pounds, and contained 2,900 pounds of T. N. T.

Dropped from an airplane at a height of between 4,000 and 5,000 feet at Aberdeen, this huge bomb tore a great hole in the ground, more than 60 feet in diameter and about 20 feet deep.

It was with a bomb half this size that Brigadier-General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, and his army fliers sunk the former German battleship Outriggerland during the bombing tests with the ex-German warships off the Virginia Capes a few months ago.

dollars less than it would have, if all persons receiving over $2,000 had paid their full amount.

The contribution of the 20,000,000 American housewives is not included by the bureau in the national income because they are not paid in money. But the report points out that if they were paid at the lowest possible figure (the average recompense of personal and domestic service) their addition to the total national income would be about one-third, or 18 billions. On that basis the bureau gives the following conjectural figure as to the fluctuation of the housewife's contribution to the national income since 1909.

Year	Individual Contribution (in dollars)	Total Contribution (in billions of dollars)
1909	$500	$8.85
1910	500	9.00
1911	500	9.20
1912	525	9.82
1913	525	9.98
1914	525	10.19
1915	550	10.84
1916	600	11.94
1917	650	14.30
1918	750	15.30
1919	900	18.45

Both the total national income and the per capita income are larger in the United States than in any other country. The report estimates this as the relative standing of the four countries named at the outbreak of the war.

	Nat'l Income (billions of dollars)	Income Per Capita (in dollars)
1914
United States	$33.5	$338
United Kingdom	10.9	243
Germany	10.5	146
Australia	1.3	263

The report is in press, and will be published early in November.

You don't have to coax big and little folks to eat Kellogg's Corn Flakes

Just as soon as you serve Kellogg's you'll note fussy and faded appetites getting mighty sharp; you'll find big bowls being handed back for "just a few more Kellogg's, mother—they're wonderful!"

And, that'll make you glad, for Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a great speed-start for the day's doings! They make for health and happy digestions! Kellogg's are never leathery or tough, but always joyously crisp!

Kellogg's—the original Corn Flakes—will be a revelation to your taste if you have been eating imitations! For your own enjoyment, do this:—compare the big, sunny-brown Kellogg's Corn Flakes with other "corn flakes." Eat some of Kellogg's—then try the imitations! You'll realize then why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the largest and fastest selling cereal in the whole world!

Do more than ask for "corn flakes." Insist upon KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package! My, but it's worth while!

CONDEMNS FURTHER TRIALS

Shown Emergency Fleet Corporation
Operated at Loss While British Fleets Made Money

Washington, Nov. 1—Calling attention to two outstanding examples of failure under public ownership, namely, Government operation of the railways and of the emergency fleet, the National Association of Railway and Utilities Commissioners rendered a report at their session, recently, condemning any further experimentation in this line. According to the report railway operation by the Government "is now almost past history, except the readjustments to private ownership and operation and the liquidation of the staggering operation-loss debt of $1,800,000,000 resulting from the 26 months of government operation."

The report then calls attention to the fact that the U. S. Shipping Board and its subsidiary, the Emergency Fleet Corporation, were created in 1917, as a war measure to provide adequate transportation of troops overseas. "Since the signing of the armistice, November, 1918, it has been operated as a business corporation. It has over $3,000,000,000 worth of property. For the first two years after the armistice there was an extraordinary boom in shipping. Yet the statement of its business operations from its inception to June 30, 1920, shows the following astonishing financial results from operations, viz: Revenues received, $817,271,542; expenses, $1,002,396,579; operating loss $185,125,037."

At the same time, according to the report, British merchant fleets reported for this period net profits on their investments ranging from 20 to 40 percent. The latter were privately owned and managed, under certain reasonable government regulations. The difference in the respective systems of management is responsible for the difference in results.

The report calls attention to the complete breakdown in Russia under the government ownership system, and adds, respecting telephone experiments: "The English telephones are owned by the government; they are not self-supporting. The people of this country would not for a minute submit to such service as they give. Our telephone service at its worst is better than theirs at its best, and yet our tolls are lower." Public ownership "wherever tried has proved a practical failure, with either a resultant increase in rates beyond the reasonable value of the service rendered, or the breaking down of the utility in question with a large proportion of its operation costs borne by the taxpayers."

The report will meet with substantial agreement on the part of the American people, who, under eight years of Wilsonism experienced all they cared to of business under bureaucracy.

Atlantic Coast Booze Smuggler Cleans Up Fortune on One Trip

Editors Note: Here is the story of a modern smuggler—one of the fleet of run runners operating off the Atlantic Coast and providing one of the channels through which some of the liquor is brought into American ports. Captain X whose real name is withheld, made his statement to representative of the United Press in Norfolk, Virginia, where he lives in the guise of a law abiding citizen when he is not at sea slipping past revenue cutters with case goods from the Bahamas. This is the third of the series of stories on bootlegging operations.

By MAX B. COOK
(Written for United Press)
Copyright 1921 by U. P.
Norfolk, Virginia, Nov. 1.—Dodging through flotillas of destroyers, playing tag with submarine chasers, cruising close to the breakers watching for the blink of a light from the shore signaling "all's well" and cleaning up a fortune on a single voyage—these are some of the experiences of an Atlantic coast booze smuggler, as told to the United Press today.

This smuggler is only one of many who are bringing cargo after cargo of liquor into this country from the West Indies, piling up astounding profits and laughing at the hooch blockade the government tries to maintain against them.

His real name cannot be revealed. He will be called Captain X. He is a college graduate and skipper of a speedy sea going motor boat capable of carrying thirty tons. While in Norfolk he lives as a law abiding citizen and resides in a luxurious apartment. While he is resting between trips he docks his run runner right in Norfolk harbor.

"Here is how we work," he said. "Our shore agents quietly solicit orders from men who are able to buy stock for their cellars and are willing to pay a good price for high class goods. In two weeks we had enough orders to load my boat."

"We cleared decks for action, so to speak—disposed of all non-essentials and took along an arsenal of six rifles and plenty of ammunition."

"For crew I had a man who had been taking care of the boat in the harbor and a negro whom I hired to help with the engines and stand watch with us at the wheel."

"Before I sailed our shore agent told me there were two other boats making the trip at about the same time but that they would put in at other ports."

"We made the Bahamas in six days and never saw a government craft. It was about two hours after we landed that a man came up, told me he knew I was a run runner and said he was a dealer and in a position to fill my order. That order included Scotch whiskey, gin, all kinds of brandies, rum and about every foreign liquor you could name, but the dealer had them all in his stores."

ALIENS SEEK ENTRY BY THE REAR DOORS

Thousands of Barred Immigrants
Going to Canada and to Mexico in Attempt to Come in

BORDER GUARDS ARE LIMITED

Mexico is a Real and Serious Worry to Labor Department—Canadian Problem Cared For

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 1.—The Bureau of Immigration of the Labor Department, struggling with the requirements of the present immigration law, because of the quota limitations, has a new problem.

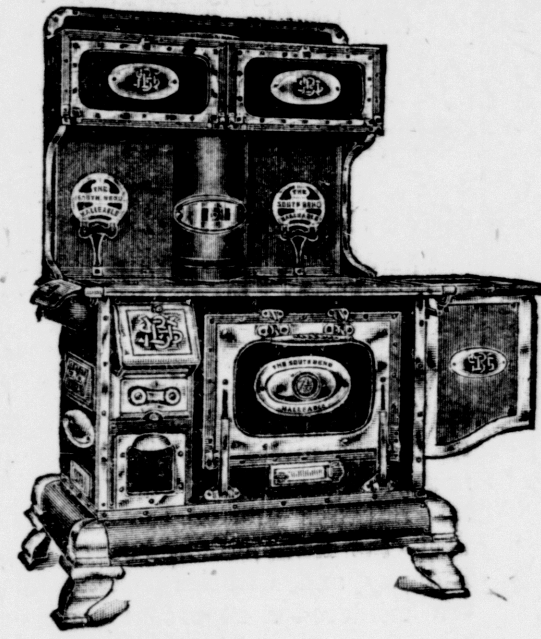

Thousands of those being turned away from this country are going to Canada and to Mexico in an attempt to come in by the back door. Inspection service and available guards at border points are limited in number. They have always had their hands full. There are thousands of miles that are unprotected, and Caucasians slipping across the border are hard to detect. This is particularly true when they are European nationals who learned the English language before essaying an entry into this country.

The problem so far as Canada is concerned has been largely cared for by recent orders in council of the Dominion government just communicated to the Labor Department. These orders provide that no adult can enter Canada with less than $500 cash in pocket, and that every person over ten and under 21 must have $250. Heads of families must have the cash for every member of the family brought in.

Mexico is, however, a real and serious worry to the Labor Department. A high official stated today that at thousands of places where one can practically step across the Rio Grande there is real danger of an extended illicit traffic in aliens. There are, reports to the Labor Department show, persons on either side of the border who watch the police force and who can dominate a few persons at a time without fear of detection. They are turning this to a profit, in violation of the law.

Secretary Davis and other officials have under consideration methods to meet the situation. It is known that word is going back to many European countries that the way into the United States lies through Mexico, and literature advising this method of approach has been apprehended by officials.

INTERNATIONAL MEET ADVOCATED

Unemployment Problem Will Better
Itself With Slowness Unless Nations
Make Concerted Effort

LITTLE TROUBLE IN FRANCE

International Causes Must be Met
By International Arrangements,
Says Whiting Williams

London, (By Mail to U. P.)—The world unemployment problem will better itself with depressing slowness unless the various nations can make concerted effort.

This opinion was expressed by Whiting Williams, former vice-president of the Hydraulic Steel Company of Cleveland, Ohio, who has spent several years studying the labor problem, and who is now visiting London after working all the summer in the mines and steel plants of France and the Saar.

"Unemployment seems considerably less in France than in Great Britain or America," said Williams. "This is partly because of the shortage of French workers following the war casualties and partly because of the 800,000 French workers at present under arms."

"In Germany the worker is less well paid than before the war. In general his wages have hardly kept up with the 1,000 percent increase in the cost of living. The middle classes, including teachers, small property holders and the federal employees in the civil railway and post office services, have been tremendously hard hit, because their wages have hardly increased more than 500 percent."

"It appears to me all wrong to say that Germany has got back to normal. The real fact is that German mines and mills are running simply because Germany has not yet started to get back to normal. Her goods are sold abroad simply by reason of the advantage arising from a currency which is constantly depreciating. Some day or other, Germany must begin setting her financial house in order. The result of that will be a period of vast unemployment and unhappiness."

"It is very evident that the present situation of unemployment is international in its dimensions and also international in its causes."

"The situation will better itself with depressing slowness unless the various nations can make concerted efforts. International causes must be met by international arrangements regarding the limitation of armaments should greatly help by the saving of enormous sums of money."

"But I should like to see Lloyd George or M. Briand or President Harding call all International Conference for the consideration of such factors in the situation as international exchange, international credit, tariffs, etc."

"M. Briand expressed to me recently his belief that the diplomats of the near future would find international conferences on such subjects as the prevention of unemployment quite as essential to the happiness of their peoples as the more usual problems of boundaries and other similar affairs."

"Certainly nothing the world so plays into the hands of all the forces of unrest and revolution as unemployment."

Operations Now For Sick Pearls

By JOHN O'BRIEN

Paris, Nov. 1.—Miladi, who owns a string of costly pearls, is often worried when her gems appear to be lacking in lustre. Don't worry miladi. All they need is a trip to a beauty parlor. There your pearls will be massaged back into perfect health.

Society women in Paris have been greatly perturbed of late by reports that perfumes and powders eat away the "life" of pearls. It is a fact that certain perfumes have a deleterious effect on the gems, but, according to the pearl specialists of Paris, the remedy is easy. Leonard Rosenthal, who stands in the forefront of these experts, explained the nature of the "disease" and the "cure."

"A pearl," he said, "is a composition. It consists of thousands of concentric envelopes formed within the oyster. The outer envelope may be affected by the acidity of the wearer's skin, by dust or differences in temperature. All powders used by women contain a certain amount of acid. After several years this imperceptible burrows under the outer envelope and the pearl loses its lustre. All that is needed for the restoration of the lustre is the removal of the outer envelope, and repolishing with a special powder, the composition of which is a secret of the trade. All I can say is that powdered rubies enter into its makeup."

"The removal of the pearl's skin is a delicate operation. It is done by a specialist. He works in a way similar to that of the 'beauty specialists' who, before making over a wrinkled face, remove the worn-out epidermis."

OTTAWA, Ont.—Preliminary estimates made by the government bureau of statistics indicate the total wheat crop of Canada will be heavier than last year by 25,000,000 bushels. The yield last year was 263,189,000 bushels. It is estimated it will be 288,493,000 bushels this year.

INCLUDING A BOND
Indianapolis, Nov. 1.—George Hoss and Nick Kosloff returned from work last night and found their house empty. A thief had taken everything except a few scraps of paper during their absence. The loot included a $1,000 liberty bond and all the furniture.

Bad Luck and the Devil Pursued Him

"I don't think any one has had more bad luck and sickness than I have. In 1905 I had two ribs, an arm and collar bone broken in a railroad accident. Then I had pneumonia. After recovering I crossed a pasture when a bull chased me, tossed me over the fence and broke my right leg. In 1910 I had typhoid fever; since then severe stomach and liver trouble, which no medicine or doctor touched until two years ago I got a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which proved the first ray of light in thirteen years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at Druggists Everywhere.—Advertisement.

Much Suffering Caused by Waste Products in the Blood

What Science Knows About the Matter and How It Is Best Treated.

The blood is more important than any of the organs. It is thru the blood that the whole human body is directly or indirectly nourished. The blood gets its nourishment from the intestines. The intestines also contain waste products—undigested foods, acids, gases and refuse, which sometimes get in the blood.

When waste products get in the blood, nature will strive to cast them out. If your resistance is strong enough, nature will probably succeed. But if you are "below par," weak, run-down, and nervous, nature will begin to show signs of distress.

As a result, you will have a feeling of fatigue. You will have energy you need for the day's duties and pleasure. Minor ailments will begin to affect you—pimples, blackheads, and boils.

If the waste products are not gotten out of the blood at this point, it is possible a more serious skin eruption or disease will begin to show itself.

It is not infrequent for waste products to settle in the muscles and joints and cause rheumatism.

Listen to nature's warning. Your blood is your fountain source of energy—therefore keep your blood rich and pure.

For over 50 years, thousands and thousands of men and women have relied on S. S. S. to clear their blood of waste products. S. S. S. will improve the quality of your blood by relieving you of the waste products which cause impoverished blood and its allied troubles—skin disorders, rheumatism and a lowered vitality.

Get S. S. S. at your druggist. Be- e of substitutes. Write Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 1720 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. for special medical advice (with- out charge). He is helping people every day to regain their health and strength. Ask him to send you his illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free. S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores.

INVITE HARDING TO FOCH CELEBRATION

Governor Asks All Delegates to National Convention of Legion to Attend Nov. 4

ISSUES MANY INVITATIONS

Dedication Ceremony Will Take Place in University Square Which Will be Part of Plaza

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—President Warren G. Harding, members of his cabinet, governors of all the states, mayors of all cities in the United States with populations of 10,000 or more and of all cities in Indiana of 5,000 or more and all delegates to the national convention of the American Legion at Kansas City have been invited by Governor Warren T. McCray of Indiana to attend the dedicatory services in connection with the Marshal Foch Day celebration in Indianapolis Nov. 4. At the top of the invitation is an embossed State seal, and below it the following:

"The Governor of Indiana invites you to attend the formal dedication of the ground and the laying of the corner stone of the National headquarters building of The American Legion, Indiana's War memorial, by Ferdinand Foch, the Marshal of France on Friday the fourth of November nineteen hundred and twenty-one at Indianapolis."

Similar invitations have been issued by Mayor Charles W. Jewett of Indianapolis. The dedication ceremony will take place in University Square, which will be a part of the plaza when the Memorial Building is erected. Acceptances have been received from eight governors, and several more are expected to be present.

Invitations have been issued, also, to every Indiana man and woman who saw active service in the American military or naval forces during the world war to participate in the Foch celebration. All former service men, regardless of affiliation with the American Legion or non membership in any similar organization, are urged to wear their uniforms and march in the parade, which will take place at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Claude E. Gregg, Commander of The American Legion Department of Indiana has sent out a special bulletin to all posts in the state urging full attendance at the celebration, and Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, chairman of the Foch Day Executive Committee, issued an appeal to the 125,000 Indiana veterans for a one-hundred percent participation in the parade.

Commander Gregg's order is as follows: "On November 4, Marshal Foch, Commander of the Allied Armies during the great war will be the guest of Indiana at Indianapolis. This will be one of the largest demonstrations ever known to the people of Indiana, and every ex-service man and woman should take part in the program of the day. The interurban lines have granted a reduced rate of one-way fare for round trip for this occasion.

Briefly the program is as follows: 9:00 A. M. Marshal Foch arrives at Union Station. A salute of 19 guns will be fired as he enters the station. The band will play "La Marseillaise" and then "The Star Spangled Banner." The Marshal will then be escorted from the station by the famous Black Horse Troop of Culver. The Culver, DePauw, Indiana and Purdue University, Marion County Legion and other bands will provide music. 10:30 A. M. there will be an auto race at the Motor Speedway, probably four or five cars participating. This event is free to everyone. 1:30 p. m. the parade will form at the south side of the State House, moving eastward on Washington Street at 2:00 p. m. The parade will contain troops from Ft. Harrison, National Guard Troops several military and Legion bands, and thousands of Legion, and ex-service men and women.

Immediately after the parade the ground for the S. S. S. Memorial and for the paramount National Headquarters of The Legion will be dedicated. 8:30 p. m. in the Cadle Tabernacle corner New Jersey and Ohio streets, a public meeting will be held, which will close the celebration.

Indiana soldiers who won medals for bravery in the war, particularly those who were awarded the Croix de Guerre of France, will be grouped prominently in the parade and at the ceremonial events.

Instead of the formal reception for the Marshal at the Union Station he will be greeted there by the committee and escorted to the Claypool Hotel by the Culver Black Horse Troop. A suite of rooms will
